About this report

This report is about kinship care.

Kinship care is when a child is looked after by someone who is not their parent.

A kinship carer might be
● a person in the family
● a person the child knows.

There are lots of children who need kinship care.
Many kinship carers do not have enough money to look after a child or young person.

The Department of Health and Human Services or DHHS gives kinship carers some money to pay for things.

For example

- food
- school
- petrol.

This report tells you important information about

- our investigation
- what we found
- our recommendations.
Our investigation

Investigation means to find out more.

We wanted to know how DHHS works with kinship carers.

- gives kinship carers the payments they need
- makes decisions that give children in kinship care the best support
- gives kinship carers clear information about payments
- pays kinship carers on time.
What we found

We found that

● kinship carers get less money than foster carers

● when kinship carers do not get the right payments
  – carers might find it hard to pay for things they need
  – children might go into different care, for example foster care

● kinship carers have to wait too long for payments

● there is not enough information about
  – the types of payments for kinship carers
  – how to get the right payments for kinship care.
Our recommendations

Recommendations means what we think needs to happen.

We want to make things better for kinship carers.

We think DHHS should

● give kinship carers and foster carers the same payments

● make decisions that give children in kinship care the best support

● give kinship carers clear information about payments.
We also think DHHS should

- make decisions in a reasonable time

- contact kinship carers in a reasonable time.

Reasonable means something that is fair.

DHHS told us they would do these things.
